History

The Barelas Photo Collection at the NHCC grew out of a 1988 donation by the Center for Regional Studies at the University of New Mexico of a photo collection entitled "lo de Barelas." It is from this core collection along with additional donations that the collection has grown to over 600 photos. Along with this collection the NHCC has produced a large assortment of exhibit material which was originally used for the NHCC grand opening interactive exhibit titled "Barelas A Traves de los Años: Barelas Across the Years," curated by Carlos Vásquez, Michael Miller and Mo Palmer.

The NHCC also published a companion catalog by the same name, which is a pictorial history of the Barelas community (see library reference desk). In addition NHCC staff conducted more than forty hours of oral histories, which were recorded on video as part of a project to produce a documentary on this impressive community. The collection of these materials, both for the archives and for exhibition, are integral to the cultural patrimony and history of the Barelas community and the site of the NHCC which was built in "Lower Barelas" on Avenida César Chávez and 4th Street in 1999. Related to this collection is the newly acquired collection of photos of the Barelas Community Center (see NHCC archivist for details.)

Scope and Content

The majority of the images are copy prints from original photos housed in other archives, such as the University of New Mexico and the Albuquerque Museum. Community members have donated many additional images. The photos are organized in folders and boxes titled with subject heading to accommodate a more accessible search system. A large percentage of the photos relate to sports and entertainment in the Barelás area. Included are many family and portrait photos of people from the Barelás community. Also in the collection are many photos of buildings, architectural structures, and streets scenes of the area including images of the original schoolhouse where the NHCC archives are contained. Other images of Barelás landmarks include the Red Ball Café, Barelás Community Center, Barelás/Atrisco bridge over the Rio Grande, Sacred Heart Church, Albuquerque Hispano Chamber of Commerce, Barelás Coffee House and downtown Albuquerque streets and buildings. In addition there is a separate collection of nearly forty oral history interviews on digital video and audiotape as well as well as VHS versions on the interviews. NHCC staff conducted these oral histories.
